1. Introduction

1.1 Security Purchase Plan and Shortfall Offer

On 29 November 2017, Spectur announced its intention to raise up to $684,000 by way of a security purchase plan to existing Shareholders (Security Purchase Plan).

Pursuant to the Security Purchase Plan, investors will be able to subscribe for new fully paid ordinary shares in the Company (New Shares) at an issue price of $0.36 each, with one free attaching option exercisable at $0.20 on or before 31 December 2020 (Free Attaching Option) for every four New Shares issued.

Pursuant to the Security Purchase Plan, existing Shareholders on the Company's register of Shareholders at Tuesday, 28 November 2017 are entitled to subscribe for up to $5,000 of New Shares at $0.36 each, with one Free Attaching Option for every four New Shares issued.

The Security Purchase Plan is capped at $684,000 with the Company accepting valid applications on a first-come first-served basis.

Any New Shares and Free Attaching Options not subscribed for under the Security Purchase Plan will form the Shortfall and will be offered under the Shortfall Offer, which forms a separate offer under this Prospectus. An individual, including an Eligible Shareholder, may apply for additional New Shares and Free Attaching Options under the Shortfall Offer provided they are eligible under all applicable securities laws to receive an offer under the Shortfall Offer.

If, after the close of the Security Purchase Plan and Shortfall Offer, any New Shares and Free Attaching Options have not been subscribed for under the Security Purchase Plan or Shortfall Offer, the Directors reserve the right to place some or all of those Offer Securities within 3 months of the close of the Offers.

The issue of Offer Securities under the Security Purchase Plan, the Shortfall Offer and pursuant to the placement of any remaining Offer Securities, is conditional on shareholder approval to be sought by the Company at a general meeting to be held on or about Monday, 15 January 2018.

The funds raised by the Security Purchase Plan, Shortfall Offer and placement of any remaining Offer Securities will be used to fast track the development and commercialisation of the Company's Remote Gas Detection Technologies, LIDAR systems, and thermal camera technologies, expand the Company's presence into new markets including Victoria, New South Wales and Queensland, design and manufacture of trailer mounted rental models, and to conduct market analysis for the Company's international launch, and for general working capital.

Refer to Section 3 for further information regarding the Security Purchase Plan and Shortfall Offer.

1.2 Placement Option Offer

On 29 November 2017, Spectur announced that it had conducted a placement to sophisticated and professional investors (as defined in the Corporations Act) of 6,000,000 New Shares at an issue price equal to that under the SPP, being $0.36 each, and 1,500,000 Free Attaching Options exercisable at $0.20 each on or before 31 December 2020, at the same ratio as under the Security Purchase Plan, being one Free Attaching Option for every four New Shares issued, to raise up to $2,160,000 (before costs) (Placement).

As at the Prospectus Date, the Securities to be issued under the Placement have not been issued. The New Shares are intended to be issued on or about 5 December 2017. The Free Attaching Options are offered under the Placement Option Offer, and are intended to be issued after Shareholder approval for their issue has been obtained, on 16 January 2018, as set out in the indicative timetable on page 1 of this Prospectus.

Under the Placement Option Offer, this Prospectus invites participants in the Placement to subscribe for that number of new Free Attaching Options to which they are entitled to be issued under the terms of the Placement, being one new Free Attaching Option for every four New Shares subscribed for under the Placement.

The primary purpose of offering the Free Attaching Options under the Placement Option Offer is for the Company to fulfil its obligation under the Placement to issue Free Attaching Options to the Placement Participants.

By offering the Free Attaching Options under the Placement Option Offer, the Free Attaching Options will be issued with disclosure under Chapter 6D of the Corporations Act. Accordingly, the Free Attaching Options (and any Shares issued on their exercise) will not be subject to secondary trading restrictions.

The full terms and conditions of the Free Attaching Options offered under the Placement Option Offer are set out in Section 7.2.

The Placement Option Offer opens on the Opening Date and closes on the Closing Date. The Directors reserve the right to extend the Offer Period of the Placement Option Offer, or close the Placement Option Offer prior to the Closing Date, subject to the requirements of the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules. The full timetable for the Placement Option Offer is set out on page 1 of this Prospectus.

1.3 Lead Manager Option Offer

This Prospectus invites the Lead Manager (or its nominee) to participate in an offer of 2,000,000 new Lead Manager Options at an issue price of $0.001 each to raise $2,000 (before costs), in accordance with the Lead Manager Mandate.

All Lead Manager Options issued pursuant to this Prospectus will entitle the holder to subscribe for one Share at an exercise price of $0.50 on or before 31 December 2020, and will otherwise be issued on the terms set out in Section 7.3.

The primary purpose of the Lead Manager Offer is for the Company to fulfil its obligation under the Lead Manager Mandate to issue the Lead Manager Options to the Lead Manager or its nominee.

By offering the Lead Manager Options under the Lead Manager Option Offer, the Lead Manager Options will be issued with disclosure under Chapter 6D of the Corporations Act. Accordingly, the Lead Manager Options (and any Shares issued on their exercise) will not be subject to secondary trading restrictions.

The Lead Manager Option Offer opens on the Opening Date and closes on the Closing Date. The Directors reserve the right to extend the Offer Period of the Lead Manager Option Offer, or close the Lead Manager Option Offer prior to the Closing Date, subject to the requirements of the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules. The full timetable for the Lead Manager Option Offer is set out on page 1 of this Prospectus.

1.4 Director Offer

This Prospectus invites Mr Charles Richard Wallace Wilkins and Mr Peter William Holton (or their nominees), being Directors (Director Offerees) to participate in an offer of an aggregate of 100,000 New Shares and 25,000 Free Attaching Options on the same basis as subscribers under the Placement, being New Shares issued at an issue price of $0.36 each, with one Free Attaching Option to be issued for every four New Shares issued, to raise up to $36,000 (Director Offer).

The New Shares issued under the Director Offer will rank equally with all existing Shares on issue. The Free Attaching Options to be issued under the Director Offer will entitle the holder to subscribe for one Share at an exercise price of $0.20 on or before 31 December 2020, and will otherwise be issued on the terms set out in Section 7.2.

By offering the New Shares and Free Attaching Options under the Director Offer, those Securities will be issued with disclosure under Chapter 6D of the Corporations Act. Accordingly, those Securities (including any Shares issued on the exercise of Free Attaching Options) will not be subject to secondary trading restrictions.

The Director Offer opens on the Opening Date and closes on the Closing Date. The Directors reserve the right to extend the Offer Period of the Director Offer, or close the Director Offer prior to the Closing Date, subject to the requirements of the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules. The full timetable for the Director Offer is set out on page 1 of this Prospectus.

1.5 Issue of Offer Securities conditional on Shareholder approval

The issue of all Offer Securities, being the following:

- New Shares and Free Attaching Options under the Security Purchase Plan, Shortfall Offer and Director Offer;
- Free Attaching Options under the Placement; and
- Lead Manager Options under the Lead Manager Option Offer,

are conditional on shareholder approval to be sought by the Company at a general meeting to be held on or about Monday, 15 January 2018. Refer to Section 9.1 for further information.

1.6 Cleansing

In addition to being for the purpose of making the Offers, this Prospectus has been prepared for the purposes of section 708A(11) of the Corporations Act to remove any trading restrictions on Shares issued prior to the date of this Prospectus, including particularly any Shares that may be issued pursuant to the Placement.

1.7 Minimum subscription

There is no minimum subscription for any Offer.

1.8 Underwriting

The Offers are not underwritten.

1.9 Use of funds raised from the Security Purchase Plan and Placement

The Security Purchase Plan and Shortfall Offer will raise funds of up to $684,000 (before costs).

The Placement and the Director Offer, which were announced by the Company on 29 November 2017, will raise up to $2,160,000 and $36,000 (before costs) respectively.

The Lead Manager Offer will raise up to $2,000 (before costs).

The Company intends to use the funds raised from the Security Purchase Plan, Shortfall Offer and Placement as follows:

1. The information in the above table is current as at the Prospectus Date. The use of funds may change depending on any intervening events or changes in the Company's circumstances. The Board reserves the right to change the way funds are used and applied.
2. The table above assumes that the Placement and Director Offer are fully subscribed, and consequently raise an aggregate of $2,196,000 (before costs). For the avoidance of doubt, the figures in the column headed "Amount at half subscription" represent the intended use of funds raised if the Placement is fully subscribed and the Security Purchase Plan and Shortfall Offer are half subscribed.

On completion of the Security Purchase Plan with at least 50% subscription, the Company will have sufficient funds to carry out the objectives stated in this Prospectus.

Funds will not be raised from the issue of Securities under the Placement Option Offer.

2. Company Overview

2.1 Introduction

Spectur specialises in manufacturing and supplying its unique security surveillance products, services and associated systems.

It has designed and built from the ground up the unique technology that runs its cameras and systems, including proprietary software coding of the camera internal systems, the IOT (Internet of Things) Management Platform and the Client Surveillance Interface.

2.2 Spectur HD4 Security Camera System

Spectur's core product and latest remote security system model is the Spectur HD4 security camera system. This is available in two versions, either a 2 megapixel or a 3.4 megapixel solar powered low-light image sensor module, and has a substantial backup battery capacity in the event of prolonged inclement weather.

The Spectur HD4 security camera system is designed to be continuously linked to the internet so that it can be accessed, controlled and managed by the cloud-based IOT Management Platform.

The Spectur HD4 security camera system automatically manages internet protocol (IP) connectivity to Spectur's secure cloud-based server over a variety of networks, such as the 3G/4G mobile telephone networks and Wi-Fi.

The Spectur HD4 security camera system utilises distinctive technology that includes:

- a quad core computer, which runs the camera system and contains the majority of the code of the camera system and all the system smarts;
- a proprietary watchdog board, which manages the computer functions, checks the function of the main quad core computer and sends analytics to Spectur's cloud-based server; and
- a camera sensor module and a lens.

The core functionality of the Spectur HD4 security camera system includes core surveillance and alarm recording, which incorporates:

- real-time camera recording and response;
- alarm recording and activation;
- core inputs on board computer algorithms detecting movement and an external sensor hardware; and
- core outputs, being an automated speaker with a pre-recorded spoken warning and an automated 50 Watt LED floodlight.

In addition to offering core surveillance and alarm services, the camera system includes the following additional functions that are extremely useful on remote non-powered sites:

- time lapse function: this function is often used on building sites to record the construction process;
- OH&S function: the ability to record activity through the day which is accessible remotely in the event of an accident;

- management function: online real-time viewing which reduces the need for travelling to remote sites; and
- additional inputs and outputs: the watchdog board can enable multiple inputs from additional outputs such as additional hardware, i.e. multiple sensors, accelerometer and potentially a laser perimeter fence or additional industrial applications, such as water sensor gauges, pumps or fire alarms.

2.3 IOT Management Platform

Spectur has built and developed its own proprietary software, the IOT Management Platform, to access, control and operate its security surveillance camera systems (i.e. the Spectur HD4 security camera system).

The back-end IOT Management Platform is a hardware-specific software platform. It is not open source and can only be accessed, controlled and managed by Spectur. Clients who own or rent a Spectur HD4 security camera system can access the system via the user interface, i.e. the Client Surveillance Interface, which links into the cloud-based IOT Management Platform.

The settings of the Spectur HD4 security camera system are stored on Spectur's cloud-based server which is managed by the IOT Management Platform. The IOT Management Platform is used to operate the high-level functionality of each Spectur HD4 security camera system, whereas the Client Surveillance Interface operates low level functions of the Spectur HD4 security camera system.

The IOT Management Platform is a software platform which, in part, is controlled through a user interface, enabling Spectur's clients to access, control, monitor, analyse and operate key parameters of Spectur's security surveillance products via the internet.

The IOT Management Platform is designed to be continuously linked to the internet and can be described as a platform for Spectur's 'Internet of Things' or 'IOT' devices (e.g. the HD4 security camera system).

The platform is available to Spectur's clients by way of a 'Video Surveillance-as-a-Service' (VSaaS) model. It is provided to clients in conjunction with Spectur's security surveillance products.

The VSaaS model ensures that the platform software and surveillance data remains centrally hosted by Spectur but can be accessed by clients using an internet browser or any web-enabled mobile device (e.g. an Apple iPhone or iPad®, Android mobile phone or tablet device using Microsoft operating systems etc) without the need to download and install software.

2.4 Client Surveillance Interface

Spectur's clients can access the front-end client user interface, which is termed the "Client Surveillance Interface", via a secure password protected web-based login that enables clients to view live camera recordings and access live images.

The Client Surveillance Interface is able to control low level functions of the Spectur HD4 security camera systems. This allows Spectur's clients to access, control, monitor, analyse and operate various low-level parameters of their Spectur HD4 security camera systems as well as the data and images that are generated by the camera system.

Key low-level functionality includes the ability to:

- view live camera images (the 'video recordings' are technically a set of still images);
- turn on or off, or schedule, alarms, sounds and image recording;
- view alarm recordings; and

- retrieve historical HD image recordings.

Spectur's systems also provide clients with the ability to increase their number of operational security cameras simply and cost-effectively, with each additional camera being capable of linking to the client's existing Client Surveillance Interface.

Spectur is constantly working to increase the functionality and ease of use of the Client Surveillance Interface. The front-end user interface and back-end platform are available to Spectur's clients by way of a VSaaS model, and are provided to clients in conjunction with Spectur's HD4 security camera systems on a license basis.

The VSaaS model is a relatively new means of delivering video surveillance services. It is based on the software-as-a-service (or SaaS) delivery model where software and related data are centrally hosted in a cloud computing environment and accessed over the internet, rather than being purchased and installed on each computer for use.

2.5 Ongoing development of updated camera models and systems

Spectur aims to continually develop new security surveillance products and systems, as well as new functionality for its existing products and systems, to reduce its reliance on patent protection. It intends to adopt and maintain a 'first-to-market' approach for new product and system functionality. However, if and as patentable technology is developed, Spectur will pursue intellectual property protection where appropriate.

Spectur has a dedicated Research & Development centre in Melbourne and a comprehensive internal development pipeline of product and service extensions. This is partially supported by an innovation patent and four patent applications. For further information regarding this innovation patent and patent applications, refer to Section 6.2(d) below.

Spectur is also investigating initiatives which may enable Spectur's existing IOT Management Platform to be used in product and service offerings for additional industries that are not aligned with security.

Spectur plans to release new security related products and services with the intention of driving organic sales and increasing its market share. Spectur is focused on new product developments which is in line with its aspiration to be a global market leader in the solar-powered security camera market.

Spectur has several new functions and model releases in the development phase, including:

- camera range extenders – this may be of value to clients who operate multiple cameras;
- remote gas detection technology;
- thermal camera technology;
- LIDAR system;
- lower specification systems; and
- higher specification systems.

Spectur believes that, when these new functions and models are successfully developed and commercialised in new product offerings, they have the potential to add value to clients and assist the growth of the Spectur business.

Spectur may also investigate additional live surveillance analytics such as face recognition or license plate recognition software, which would be implemented through either additional in-house software development or software licensed from a third party provider.

2.6 Sales and revenue growth

Spectur continues to make strong sales progress across its operations on the back of the strong revenue growth announced in the September quarter.

As announced on 17 November 2017, Spectur has signed an agreement to provide its HD4 camera systems to the automotive shutdown project in Geelong, Victoria, for a minimum of one year, on a daily rental basis.

In the current quarter, Spectur has sold or rented camera systems to a number of new tier-one national businesses across the building, civil construction and critical infrastructure industries.

These new clients have either rented or individually purchased a number of cameras. All of these clients operate across multiple sites around Australia.

Spectur has also been named as a preferred supplier for a number of tier one companies in the resources and construction industries.

2.7 New products

Spectur has recently released new installation systems, designed for simple installation in order to allow the Company to expand its offering for sites with a hard stand, such as bitumen and concrete. The new model can be set-up by a single user making it ideal for operators who may work alone or who work across a number of sites.

The Company is also in the process of designing an additional rental product that will include a HD4 camera fit to a custom-made trailer. In addition to driving greater rentals of cameras this new product will also potentially open up new markets for Spectur where a short term, easy to deploy system is required.

The strong start to the quarter builds on recent announcements regarding Spectur's expansion into the Queensland market and the lodgement of patents for innovative new technologies for gas detection and LIDAR system for perimeter security which the Company expects to commercialise in early 2018.

Spectur has already initiated the LIDAR system, thermal camera and gas detection system testing and early results are positive. The development of these new technologies and lodgement of patents will provide Spectur with the ability to rapidly move into non-security related markets, broadening Spectur operational scope and assisting in driving sales and adoption of Spectur's products and services.

2.8 Key risks

The key risks of investing in the Company are set out below. These risks are not an exhaustive list. Further details of specific risks and general investment risks are set out in Section 6. These risks may adversely affect the Company's financial position, prospects and price of its securities.

(a) Telecommunications network providers

Spectur's security surveillance cameras transmit data to, and are otherwise controlled by, its IOT Management Platform using third-party telecommunication and internet service providers' networks and infrastructure (e.g. the 3G and 4G mobile telecommunications networks). Disruption or outages in these networks and infrastructure would likely result in Spectur and its clients not being able to access and control the cameras. Whilst these disruptions or outages are outside of Spectur's control, they nonetheless could adversely affect the perception by clients of Spectur's products and systems, which may in turn impact Spectur's reputation, business and financial position.

(b) Licensing and regulation

Spectur's business is regulated under the Security and Related Activities (Control) Act 1996 (WA) in Western Australia and will be regulated by the Private Security Act 2004 (VIC) in Victoria. Spectur operates pursuant to relevant security licenses issued to Richard Wilkins in Western Australia and Victoria. As Spectur expands its operations into other States and Territories of Australia, it may need to secure equivalent licenses or regulations in those jurisdictions, including New South Wales and Queensland, when it establishes offices in those jurisdictions.

Each of these security licences and registrations is issued subject to specific and general conditions and other requirements which if not complied with may result in penalties and/or other regulatory action being taken, including suspension or cancellation of the licences or registrations. Suspension or cancellation of a security licence or registration would have an adverse effect on Spectur's reputation, operations and financial position.

Further, if Richard Wilkins ceases to be an officer of Spectur (e.g. a director or company secretary of Spectur), Spectur would be restricted from carrying on certain regulated security activities in Western Australia for which Richard is licensed, unless and until Spectur has another employee or officer holding equivalent licenses. This would likely have an adverse effect on Spectur's reputation, operations and financial position. Spectur is mitigating this risk by arranging for additional officers or employees to hold the relevant security licenses.

(c) Changes to security or surveillance laws

Security-related businesses in Australia are regulated and are subject to licensing regimes under State and Territory laws. Spectur has structured the security and surveillance activities in its business to comply with existing security laws and regulation.

However, noting the increasing community concerns regarding privacy and surveillance, particularly in relation to the installation of surveillance cameras, changes to the law in this area are possible. Such changes to the existing security laws or the imposition of additional requirements may affect Spectur's business and operations, or may result in increased costs of compliance. This may in turn have an adverse effect on Spectur's business and financial position

(d) Design and development

Some of Spectur's security surveillance products are at a relatively early stage of operational and commercial use. There is an inherent risk with any new technology, product or system that development and commercialisation will not progress as planned, may encounter problems or may be subject to delays. Developmental problems or delays may have an adverse effect on Spectur's business and financial position

2.9 The Board

The Company is managed by the Board of Directors. The Board currently comprises four Directors, including two Executive Directors and two Non-Executive Directors.

Richard Wilkins
Executive Chairman

Richard Wilkins is the founding Director and Shareholder of Spectur.

Richard has extensive industry experience in electronic engineering, telecommunications and radio communications. His experience spans from product design and technical development through to overseeing the commissioning and maintenance of major communications networks.

Richard began his career in the Royal Australian Navy, joining the radio (air) technical branch and finishing in charge of the Electronics School of Avionics for pilots, navigators and technical staff.

Richard entered the private sector where he headed Standard Telephones and Cables' maintenance team for microwave and mobile communications on the rail network between Newman and Port Hedland. He was subsequently engaged by the Natural Gas Pipeline Authority of South Australia (as it was then known) to oversee the commissioning and ongoing maintenance of the microwave and mobile communications network for the gas pipeline between Moomba and Adelaide.

Richard successfully operated his own businesses, Radiolab, CR Labs and RF Innovations, which developed innovative electronic and communications products and serviced communications networks for government departments as well as major resources and telecommunications companies. He was integrally involved in the design and development of high power paging transmitter which was ultimately sold to Telstra, Victoria's state-wide emergency services and to European markets under a license agreement. Richard, in his role as managing director, designed self-powered train wheel bearing temperature monitors and a low power active prototype radar system for collision avoidance, specifically for mine-site loading areas.

Richard remains actively involved in the day-to-day management and technical operations of Spectur, as well as working with the Board to set its strategy for ongoing business development, managing R&D and providing general support to the Managing Director.

Peter was also involved in financing the development of the 49er sailing dinghy developed by Australian 18-foot skiff legends, Frank and Julian Bethwaite. He held the European marketing rights to this boat which was ultimately selected by the International Olympic Committee for a new high sailing performance category at the 2000 Olympic Games held in Sydney.

Peter subsequently migrated to Australia where he established and operated successful coffee equipment sales and service business, Supreme Coffee Machines, as its managing director.

Peter joined Spectur as Business Development Manager in 2012 and became the Managing Director in 2017.

Andrew managed early stage sales and established Cycliq's international sales distribution network. In his role as CEO, he oversaw Cycliq's senior management team including its Australian and international operations.

Andrew is also the director of Breakwater (WA) Pty Ltd, a private project management company

(a) Eligibility determination

Shareholders who were registered in the Company's register of Shareholders with an Australian or New Zealand address at the Record Date (i.e. 5.00pm (WST) on Tuesday, 28 November 2017) will be Eligible Shareholders and may participate in the Security Purchase Plan, except in respect of any Shares such registered Shareholder holds on behalf of another person who resides outside of Australia or New Zealand.

Due to foreign securities laws, it is not practical for Shareholders resident in countries other than Australia and New Zealand to be offered the opportunity to participate in the Security Purchase Plan.

Importantly, a person who was registered as a holder of Shares with an address in Australia or New Zealand on the Record Date, but who does not hold any Shares at the Record Date, is not eligible to participate in the Security Purchase Plan. The Company operates an electronic issuer-sponsored sub-register and an electronic CHESS sub-register. The two sub-registers together make up the Company's principal register of its Securities.

Under CHESS, the Company does not issue certificates to the holders of Securities. Instead, the Company provides holders with a Holding Statement (similar to a bank account statement) that sets out the number of Offer Securities allotted and issued to them under this Prospectus.

This Holding Statement also advises investors of either their Holder Identification Number (HIN) in the case of a holding on the CHESS sub-register or Security Holder Reference Number (SRN) in the case of a holding on the issuer sponsored sub-register.

A Holding Statement is routinely sent to holders at the end of any calendar month during which their holding changes. A holder may request a statement at any other time; however, a charge may be incurred for additional statements.

4.13 Taxation implications

The Directors do not consider that it is appropriate to give potential Applicants advice regarding the taxation consequences of applying for Offer Securities under this Prospectus, as it is not possible to provide a comprehensive summary of the possible taxation positions for potential Applicants.

Neither the Company nor any of its advisers or officers accept any responsibility or liability for any taxation consequences to potential Applicants in relation to an Offer. Potential Applicants should, therefore, consult their own tax adviser in connection with the taxation implications of the Offers.

4.14 Privacy disclosure

The Company collects information about each Applicant from the Application Forms for the purpose of processing the Application and, if the Applicant is successful, for the purposes of administering the Applicant's Security holding in the Company.

By submitting an Application Form, each Applicant agrees that the Company may use the information in the Application Form for the purposes set out in this privacy disclosure statement.

The Company and the Share Registry may disclose an Applicant's personal information for purposes related to the Applicant's investment to their agents and service providers including those listed below or as otherwise authorised under the Privacy Act (Privacy Act):

- the Share Registry for ongoing administration of the Company's register;
- the Company's related bodies corporate (as that term is defined in the Corporations Act), agents, contractors and third party service providers, as well as to ASX, ASIC and other regulatory authorities (including the Australian Taxation Office); and
- the printers and the mailing house for the purposes of preparing and distributing Holding Statements and for the handling of mail.

If an Applicant becomes a Security holder of the Company, the Corporations Act requires the Company to include information about the security holder (name, address and details of the Securities held) in its public register. This information must remain in the Company's register of Shareholders even if that person ceases to be a Security holder of the Company. Information contained in the Company's register of Shareholders is also used to facilitate distribution payments and corporate communications (including the Company's financial results, annual reports and other information that the Company may wish to communicate to its Security holders) and compliance by the Company with legal and regulatory requirements.

If an Applicant does not provide the information required on the Application Form, the Company may not be able to accept or process their Application.

Under the Privacy Act, a person may request access to their personal information held by (or on behalf of) the Company or the Share Registry. An Applicant can request access to their personal information by writing to the Company through the Share Registry.

4.15 Enquiries

- Costs of the Placement and Offers amount to $202,600 on the basis of full subscription under the Security Purchase Plan and Shortfall Offer, and $181,507 on a half subscription basis.

7. There is no adjustment for the operating costs of the Company between 30 June 2017 and the date of completion of the Offers.

5.4 Substantial holdings

A “substantial holding” is defined under section 9 of the Corporations Act to mean a relevant interest in 5% or more of the voting shares of a company.

The table below sets out the Shareholders with a substantial holding as at the Prospectus Date.

Name	Number of Shares	Percentage interest
Gillian Woodford	3,000,000	7.32%
Pabasa Pty Ltd / Paul Kehoe	2,125,000	5.18%

Note: The figures in the table assume that:

1. additional Shares are not issued after the Prospectus Date;
2. none of the Options on issue at the Prospectus Date are exercised; and
3. none of the Performance Rights on issue at the Prospectus Date vest.

5.5 Effect of the Offers and Placement on control of the Company

As at the Prospectus Date, the Company has 41,000,000 Shares and 14,350,000 unlisted Options on issue.

Assuming Shareholder approval is obtained for the issue of New Shares and Free Attaching Options under the Security Purchase Plan, each of the substantial Shareholders set out in Section 5.4 may obtain up to 13,889 New Shares and 3,473 Free Attaching Options.

Set out in the table below are the potential relevant interests of each substantial Shareholder, assuming that each substantial Shareholder obtains 13,889 New Shares under the Security Purchase Plan, no Securities under the Placement, and both the Security Purchase Plan and the Placement are fully subscribed.

Name	Current percentage interest	Maximum percentage interest post- Security Purchase Plan
Gillian Woodford	7.32%	6.15%
Pabasa Pty Ltd / Paul Kehoe	5.18%	4.36%

The Company will manage the Placement such that no Shareholder will either become a substantial Shareholder, or obtain a relevant interest in Shares of 20% or more.

The Company does not anticipate that the acquisition of Shares by any Shareholder under any Offer will result in any Shareholder either becoming a substantial Shareholder, or obtaining a relevant interest in Shares of 20% or more.

6. Risk Factors

6.1 Introduction

Activities in the Company and its controlled entities, as in any business, are subject to risks which may impact upon the Company's future performance. There can be no guarantee that the Company will achieve its stated objectives.

Potential investors should read the entire Prospectus and review announcements made by the Company to ASX (at www.asx.com.au under the code SP3) in order to gain an appreciation of the Company, its activities, operations, financial position and prospects.

An investment in the Company's Securities should be considered speculative. Securities carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of any dividends, returns of capital or the market value of those Securities.

Potential investors should consider the risk factors set out in Section 2.8 above and in Sections 6.2 and 6.3 below which the Directors believe represent some of the general and specific risks that Shareholders should be aware of when evaluating the Company and deciding whether to acquire any Securities in the Company. The following risk factors are not intended to be an exhaustive list of all of the risk factors to which the Company is exposed.

6.2 Company specific risks

In addition to the key risk set out in Section 2.8 above, the following risks have been identified as being key risks specific to an investment in the Company. These risks may adversely affect the Company's financial position, prospects and price of its quoted Securities.

(a) Competition

The security and surveillance industry is a competitive sector that is reliant upon continual technological advancement, particularly in relation to automation of systems as well as development of new and improved software functions. There are a number of other security and surveillance businesses which have announced development of products, systems and services similar to Spectur's. There is a risk that existing competitors or new entrants to the market may develop superior or more cost-effective products, systems or services which could have an adverse effect on Spectur's ability to continue development and commercialisation of its security surveillance products and the IOT Management Platform, and therefore Spectur's business and financial position.

(b) Commercialisation and market risks

Spectur has operated a trading business which has supplied its security surveillance products and systems, in various models/versions, since 2009. While Spectur's product and service offering is in full commercial operation and it has a number of standing contracts to supply the same to its clients, as with all businesses, there cannot be any assurance that its products and services will continue to generate ongoing market interest. Spectur's business and financial success will depend upon its ability to continue commercialising and to expand its products and services, grow its client base and generate revenue. Failure to do so may have an adverse effect on Spectur's business and financial position.

Further, Spectur is seeking to provide services based on historical and existing market trends, as well as to create and develop new markets. There cannot be any assurance of the continued growth in existing markets nor that the new markets which it is seeking to supply will develop as targeted.

(c) Reliance on key personnel

Spectur's success depends to a significant extent upon its key management personnel, as well as other employees and technical personnel, including sub-contractors.

Spectur's potentially ground-breaking innovative technological developments have come about through its team of key operational personnel. It has sought to foster a workplace environment which encourages innovation and technical thought-leadership.

The loss of the services of any of Spectur's key personnel could have an adverse effect on it at this early stage of development, particularly as finding an effective replacement may be difficult.

(d) Intellectual property registration

Spectur holds one granted innovation patent, being Australian Patent No. AU201400095, and in March 2017, filed two patent applications in relation to its proprietary technology, being Australian Patent Application No. 2017900785 and No. 2017900897. These patent applications are due for completion in or about March 2018.

Spectur has recently filed two further patent applications for its Remote Gas Detection Camera Technology and its LIDAR system, being Australian Patent Application No. 2017904283 and No. 2017904284. A summary of the new technology is set out in the Company's announcement to ASX dated 7 November 2017, available free of charge on the Company's website at www.spectur.com.au/asx-releases/.

The patent applications do not give Spectur any currently enforceable rights.

Further, Spectur has not sought to apply for patent protection outside of Australia under the PCT process. Neither the granted patent nor the applications, if granted, will necessarily provide Spectur with enforceable protections in jurisdictions outside of Australia. Spectur has determined that application for registration of patents outside of Australia under the PCT process would not necessarily provide a material benefit at this time, but may review this position having regard to Spectur's further circumstances.

If the patent applications are granted, the resultant patents would, with Spectur's existing patent, constitute a material asset for Spectur. Spectur's ability to commercialise its products and systems successfully is partly dependent upon it obtaining the monopoly rights to exploit the inventions and methods described in the patent and the patent applications.

Spectur anticipates that its patent applications will be granted. However, there cannot be any assurance of this.

Third parties may also object to the grant of Spectur's patent applications on grounds which may include alleged infringement of their patents. Spectur is not aware of any of its technology infringing any third-party's patent. However, Spectur has not undertaken an extensive assessment of existing patents to determine any overlapping technology or potential infringement, as the costs of such would be prohibitive. Accordingly, there is a risk that a third-party may claim that Spectur's technology (including as set out in its patent applications) infringes that third-party's patent.

(e) Software development risk

Spectur's security surveillance products and systems (including the IOT Management Platform) contain, and other products and systems developed by Spectur will contain, complicated software programming. Spectur is seeking to advance its programme to develop and launch new and innovative functionality for its products and systems. Its products and systems may therefore contain (now or in the future) software errors or vulnerabilities. Any errors or vulnerabilities discovered could result in (among other consequences) damage to Spectur's brand, loss of clients and liability for damages, any of which could adversely affect Spectur's business and financial position.

(f) Security breaches, data loss, theft or corruption

Spectur's security surveillance product and service offering is predominately operated through the use of computer and internet systems. Hacking or exploitation of some unidentified vulnerability in Spectur's network could lead to loss, theft or corruption of data and negatively affect Spectur's reputation, business and financial position. Accordingly, Spectur has taken significant measures to protect the integrity and security of its systems.

Spectur stores data from clients' security surveillance cameras in a secure cloud-based system. This third-party system adopts advanced security and anti-hacking technologies. Multiple redundant copies of data are spread across several data centres and multiple additional archival copies of long-term data are made to a separate data archive. The cloud service provider for image storage is intended to protect stored data from hacking and reflects industry best practise for prevention of data loss.

The preservation of surveillance footage image sequences by way of cloud-based storage is intended to ensure that catastrophic failure of Spectur's server infrastructure (if any) presents only a temporary interruption of Spectur's business. Spectur's security surveillance cameras themselves are autonomous and designed to continue monitoring, triggering alerts and recording images, even in the event of network disruptions and limited or no internet connectivity.

Further, data from Spectur's security surveillance cameras is encrypted whilst it is being transmitted over the internet. Financial data and surveillance footage image sequences are not stored on Spectur's own servers which is intended to ensure that failure of Spectur's servers will not result in significant data loss to clients. This has the dual advantage of ensuring that, in the event of a breach or failure, the data is not compromised and a replacement server can be brought online quickly without having to restore a large dataset.

Spectur's servers are located in a secure datacentre in Western Australia, and are subject to continuous monitoring via several independent processes. Server administrators are immediately notified of any loss of function of the servers. Spectur also maintains a backup server in a "warm" state. This server can be brought online in a short amount of time.

However, with cyber security threats and attacks (including denial of service attacks which impede a user accessing their computer network) becoming more prevalent and innovative across the world, there remains an inherent risk that Spectur's systems may be breached or that data may be corrupted. If this was to occur, or if its products or systems are subject to cyber-attacks that restrict client access, Spectur's ability to service its clients may be adversely affected notwithstanding the measures outlined above. This may result in its products and systems being perceived as less secure than those of any competitors which could negatively affect Spectur's reputation, business and financial position.

(g) Future capital requirements

The funds raised by the Security Purchase Plan, Shortfall Offer and placement of any remaining Offer Securities will be used to fast track the development and commercialisation of the Company's Remote Gas Detection Technologies, LIDAR system, and thermal camera technologies, expand the Company's presence into new markets including Victoria, New South Wales and Queensland, design and manufacture of trailer mounted rental models, and to conduct market analysis for the Company's international launch, and for general working capital.

If Spectur decides to pursue additional growth plans to those described in this Prospectus (for example implementing an overseas expansion or targeting growth by acquisitions), Spectur will require sufficient funds in order to do so. These funds may be obtained from Spectur's existing funds, ongoing cash flow or additional equity capital or debt funding.

Any additional equity financing may be dilutive to Shareholders, undertaken at lower prices than the Offer Prices or involve restrictive covenants which may limit Spectur's operations and business strategy.

Although the Directors believe that additional capital can be obtained, there cannot be any assurance that appropriate capital or funding, if and when needed, will be available on terms favourable to Spectur or at all. If Spectur is unable to obtain additional financing as needed, it may be required to reduce, delay or suspend its operations which may have a material adverse effect on Spectur's activities and its ability to continue as a going concern.

(h) Liquidity & volatility

Spectur is a relatively small company in terms of its market capitalisation upon. Investment in its Securities should be regarded as speculative.

As a consequence, there is a risk that, particularly in times of equity market turbulence or negative investor sentiment, there will not be a highly liquid market for Spectur's Securities or that the price of Spectur's Securities may decrease considerably. There may be relatively few buyers or sellers of Securities on ASX at any given time and the market price may be highly volatile.

This may result in holders wishing to sell their Securities in Spectur in circumstances where they may receive considerably less than the price paid under an Offer (where applicable).

(i) Limited operating history

Spectur has significantly increased the scale of its business operations in recent years. It intends to invest in the commercial development of its security surveillance products and systems (including development of new products and systems) as well as its interstate expansion. Whilst Spectur has generated revenue from its trading operations, the Directors anticipate making losses in the immediate future as a result of its development and expansion programme. The Directors therefore do not consider it is reasonable to evaluate its prospects based on past performance.

While the Directors have confidence in the future revenue-earning potential of Spectur, there cannot be any certainty that Spectur will achieve or sustain profitability or achieve or sustain positive cash flow from its operating activities.

(j) Manufacturing

Spectur manufactures its security products in Perth from local and imported parts. Spectur is solely reliant on continual production from its Perth warehouse. Operational difficulties may arise with suppliers, including reductions in the availability of production capacity, errors in complying with product specifications, insufficient quality control, failures to meet production deadlines, increases in manufacturing costs and increased lead times. Industrial action or workforce issues with contract suppliers may lead to delays in the production of critical components. The price of components for Spectur products could also increase reducing the profit margin per product. If there are delays in product development due to contracted manufacturers or suppliers, it could mean a delay in the release of products which could have a negative effect on revenues.

Spectur is in the process of implementing a formal supplier code of conduct and relevant standards and ongoing audit programs to assess compliance. Spectur will consider adding new production capabilities as deemed necessary, as Spectur grows.

6.3 General investment risks

The business activities of Spectur are subject to various general economic and investment risks that may impact on the future performance of Spectur. Some of these risks can be mitigated by the use of safeguards and appropriate systems and controls, but some are outside the control of Spectur and cannot be mitigated. There are a number of general economic and investment risk factors that apply to companies generally and may include economic, financial, market or regulatory conditions. These risk factors include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) General economic conditions

Economic conditions, both domestic and global, may affect the performance of Spectur. Factors such as fluctuations in currencies, commodity prices, inflation, interest rates, supply and demand and industrial disruption may have an impact on operating costs and share market prices. Spectur's future possible revenues and Securities prices can be affected by these factors, all of which are beyond the control of Spectur and its Directors.

(b) Equity market conditions

Shares listed on the Securities market, and in particular Securities of small companies at any early stage of commercial development, can experience extreme price and volume fluctuations that are often unrelated to the operating performances of such companies. The market price of Securities may fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general. These security market conditions may affect the value of Spectur's quoted Securities regardless of Spectur's operating performance.

General factors that may affect the market price of Securities include economic conditions in both Australia and internationally, investor sentiment, local and international share market conditions, changes in interest rates and the rate of inflation, variations in commodity prices, the global security situation and the possibility of terrorist disturbances, changes to government regulation, policy or legislation, changes which may occur to the taxation of companies as a result of changes in Australian and foreign taxation laws, changes to the system of dividend imputation in Australia, and changes in exchange rates.

(c) General changes in government policy & legislation

Any material adverse changes in relevant government policies or legislation of Australia or internationally may affect the viability and profitability of Spectur, and consequent returns to investors.

(d) Investment risk

The Offer Securities offered pursuant to this Prospectus should be considered speculative due to the nature of Spectur's business. There cannot be any assurance as to payment of dividends, return of capital or the market value of Offer Securities. In particular, the price at which an investor may be able to trade Offer Securities may be above or below the price paid for those Offer Securities.

Prospective investors must make their own assessment of the likely risks and determine whether an investment in Spectur is appropriate having regard to their own particular circumstances.

(e) Insurance

Spectur intends to adequately insure its operations in accordance with industry practice. However, in certain circumstances, Spectur's insurance may not be of a nature or level to provide adequate insurance cover. The occurrence of an event that is not covered or only partially covered by insurance could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of Spectur.

(f) Other

Other risk factors include those normally found in conducting business, including litigation resulting from the breach of agreements or in relation to employees (through personal injuries, industrial matters or otherwise) or any other cause, strikes, lockouts, loss of service of key management or operational personnel, non-insurable risks, delay in resumption of activities after reinstatement following the occurrence of an insurable risk and other matters that may interfere with the business or trade of Spectur.

7. Rights and Liabilities Attached to Offer Securities

7.1 Rights and liabilities attaching to New Shares

The New Shares issued under this Prospectus will be fully paid ordinary shares in the capital of Spectur and will rank equally with all Shares currently on issue.

Full details of the rights and liabilities attaching to Shares are contained in the Constitution and, in certain circumstances, are regulated by the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules, the ASX Settlement Rules and the common law. The Constitution is available for inspection free of charge at the Company's registered office and on the Company's website (www.spectur.com.au).

The following is a broad summary (though not necessarily an exhaustive or definitive statement) of the rights and liabilities attaching to Shares:

- (a) Share capital: All issued Shares rank equally in all respects.
- (b) Voting rights: At a general meeting of Spectur, every holder of Shares present in person, by an attorney, representative or proxy has one vote on a show of hands and on a poll, one vote for each Share held, and for every contributing share (i.e. partly paid) held, a fraction of a vote equal to the proportion which the amount paid up bears to the total issue price of the contributing share. Where there is an equality of votes, the chairperson has a casting vote.
- (c) Dividend rights: Subject to the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules and any rights of persons entitled to shares with special rights to dividends (at present there are none), all dividends as declared by the Directors are to be payable on all such shares in proportion to the amount of capital paid or credited as paid on the shares during any portion or portions of the period in respect of which the dividends are paid, unless the share is issued on terms providing to the contrary
- (d) Payment of dividends: Dividends are payable out of the assets of Spectur in accordance with section 254T of the Corporations Act and as determined by the Directors, which shall be conclusive. The Directors may direct that payment of the dividend be made wholly or in part by the distribution of specific assets or other Securities of Spectur.
- (e) Rights on winding-up: Subject to the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules and any rights or restrictions attached to a class of Shares, the liquidator may on winding-up of Spectur, with the authority of a special resolution, divide among the Shareholders in kind the whole or any part of the property of Spectur and may for that purpose set such value as the liquidator considers fair upon any property to be so divided and may determine how the division is to be carried out as between the Shareholders or different classes of Shareholders..
- (f) Transfer of Shares: Subject to the Constitution, Shares in Spectur may be transferred by:
 - (i) a proper ASX Settlement transfer or any other method of transferring or dealing in Shares introduced by the ASX or operated in accordance with the ASX Settlement Rules or the Listing Rules as recognised under the Corporations Act; or
 - (ii) an instrument in writing in any usual or common form or in any other form that the Directors, in their absolute discretion, approve from time to time.
